

Closing Your Account

Free of charge, with the refundable AMC returned.

Close your trading and demat account online, whenever you choose. There is no charge for closing an account, and the refundable ₹2,600 component of the lifetime AMC is returned to your registered bank account. You may also transfer your holdings to another Depository Participant instead of selling them.

Before you start

- 1 Sell your holdings, or transfer them to another demat account — an account cannot be closed while securities remain in it.
- 2 Settle any outstanding dues on the trading account.
- 3 Cancel any standing instructions, SIPs or pledges running against the account.

- 1 Settle any outstanding dues, and either sell your holdings or transfer them to another demat account — closure cannot be completed while securities remain in the account.
- 2 Submit the closure request from the back office, or send the signed Account Closure Request Form to the DP desk from your registered email ID.
- 3 We verify the balances, dues and pending instructions on the account, and confirm the request by email and SMS.
- 4 The account is closed within 7 days and the refundable AMC component is credited to your registered bank account.

KEEP READY

- Your client ID
- A nil holdings and nil dues position
- The registered bank account for the AMC refund
